

Amber Wilson

Junior Division Medicine & Health

Are Your Teeth In Danger?

This project is about how energy drinks affect your teeth. It is important because maybe it will help people understand why it is important to keep your teeth clean. If teeth soak in energy drinks, their will be weight loss. I discussed the matter of getting teeth. Then weighed and recorded weight loss over time. After I performed my experiment I found that Rock star had the lowest Ph level and Monster had the highest Ph level. My results were consistent with my hypothesis. My hypothesis was that teeth soaking in energy drinks will have weight loss. Energy drinks affect teeth badly. People depend on energy drinks everyday yet don't consider the damage they do to their teeth at the same time.